Describe your company culture

What Do We Do?

Moog is a diversified manufacturer of critical motion solutions for the aircraft, space, defense and industrial markets. Our solutions can be found in sophisticated solutions and applications where performance, reliability and safety matter most. Moog products include high-performance control systems for military and commercial aircraft, satellites and space vehicles, launch vehicles, missiles, industrial machinery, marine applications, and medical equipment. It was our auxiliary power system that allowed Charles Sullenberger to safely land a passenger airplane on the Hudson River in the Miracle on the Hudson. On average, a Moog solution is launched into space once a week!

Moog today is a $2.9 billion company with 13,000 employees in over 20 counties.

What Makes Moog Unique?

Moog possesses a unique culture that fuels our business success. Our employees work closely together, driven by a shared sense of purpose and a desire to do the right thing. We value our ground-breaking, challenging work and what we stand for. We value the skill and commitment of our talented workforce above all else. Whether it's enabling a Mars Rover to land safely or helping to support breakthrough advances in healthcare, together, we solve our customers' most difficult challenges.

Although we are a successful, global business, our employees feel like they are amongst friends and are comfortable being themselves. Moog aspires to be a diverse, equitable, and inclusive Company where employees are empowered to bring their whole, authentic selves to work every day. We believe being a diverse and inclusive company is better for all of our employees, for our customers and for our shareholders.

For prospective employees looking for inspiring and meaningful work in a warm, respectful, family-like environment, Moog will feel like home.
